THE FIRM Sources appreciate the international know-how which this firm brings to deals, thanks to its network of offices in Bishkek, Geneva and Brussels. The Bishkek office advises clients on a wide variety of matters such as corporate registrations, merger control and tax. Clients are quick to highlight the superior quality of the team and its thorough approach.

Sources say: "I'm very happy with the firm's responsiveness. The lawyers always make time to speak with us and cover all work from the very simple to the really complicated."

KEY INDIVIDUALS An "exceptionally good listener," Niyazbek Aldashev impresses clients with his solid international experience. He was recently involved in a sizeable M&A project within the telecommunications sector. As summarised by one interviewee, "he's good at breaking down what could be confusing to a civilian ear, and is committed to finding a solution." Multilingual partner Stephan Wagner impresses clients with his English, French, Dutch, German and Spanish abilities. Maritime law was his original specialism, but he has since become strongly associated with international trade and arbitration. He is highly praised for his responsiveness and client-friendly attitude.
