General Business Law: Kyrgyz Republic

1 Lorenz

A relatively recent addition to the market, this international firm has been active in the Kyrgyz Republic for only a few years but has successfully made a name for itself. The firm has a strong litigation department as well as good commercial presence, and it has acted for the Kyrgyz government and worked on various international arbitrations. Clients affirm that "practically and legally the team is superb." Niyazbek Aldashey is popular with clients, with one saying: "I really don't think I can put across just how good he's been." He focuses on contracts, dispute resolution and general commercial matters, especially with Russian speaking clients. Stephan Wagner handles much work originating from Sweden, including a number of high-profile arbitrations. He is praised as being "more than just a legal adviser – more like a business confidant."
